V. Safety – Dave Barrett/Steve Reed

Mr. Jensen introduced our Asst. Principal, Dave Barrett, who is over the safety of the students while here at CCHS.

Dave went over safety items which will help our students, teachers, and staff.

- District has placed 5 new AED's in the school. CCHS has a total of 8 AED's around the school.
- Communication during evacuation drills was an issue. Dave ordered 9 more radios to help with communication during drills and during the school day.
- Evacuation plan has been updated. Handouts have been placed in each Sub Planning booklets to help when teachers are out of the classroom for a day. Dave thanked Jamie Workman for her help with the evacuation plans.
- CPR classes have been offered to the teachers and staff which the school will pay for.
- Parents had a concern, which was brought to their attention by their students, the stair wells are very crowded during the emergency drills when all the students have to evacuate the building.

Mr. Jensen introduced Steve Reed, Teacher-Head of the science dept at CCHS, who has some safety concerns in regard to our science labs.

Steve Reed teaches Chemistry at CCHS. He explained to the SCC that the labs are too small for CCHS class sizes.

- CCHS has up to 40 students per class, an average of 34 students per class.
- According to Safety standards CCHS should have a maximum of 24 students per class.
- With new SEED Standards, students are going to spend more time in the labs doing activities with hands on experiences than a teacher demonstrating a lab for the students. The students will design and apply engineering principles. Labs are set up to inspire the students. CCHS has only three labs shared between 10 teachers.

A discussion was held, the parents asked many great questions. The questions were asked if we could lower class sizes, where do the students go and where does CCHS put the extra labs?

The SCC would like to have a sub-committee meet to discuss these questions and maybe find some solutions to the questions.

VI. School Info – Darrell Jensen

Darrell Jensen updated the SCC on happenings at CCHS.

- February 6 2020, Every Brilliant Thing will be presented at CCHS. It is a play about suicide, which is very well done.
