TEACHER FEATURE

Mr. Cram's AP Environmental Science students took advantage of the warm weather last week and held class outside! To better understand how noise pollution interferes with migration patterns, Mr. Cram had his students construct an obstacle course with chairs and had groups guide blinded students through the "migration course." In the first go, the blinded students easily made their way through; however, in the second round, outside students were instructed to be as loud as possible. This greatly prohibited the blinded students from hearing their guides' direction. As one can imagine, the students made it through the migration course much slower the second round!

Ms. Rogers' U.S. History students are studying about the Holocaust this week. It's hard for young minds (or any mind really) to comprehend the enormity of six million lives lost during this tragedy. To help students interact with the content in a more personal way, Ms. Rogers provided each student with a card upon their entry into class. Inside the card, the students found a description of someone who suffered during the Holocaust. Throughout the lesson, Ms. Rogers asked students to think about how their assigned person must have felt and what they must have experienced. At the end of class, Ms. Rogers directed students to read the back of their card, detailing what actually happened to their assigned individual. This was an extremely powerful, emotional way of making history come alive for our CCHS students. We are so grateful for all of your hard work, Ms. Rogers!

CHARITY FUN RUN

We are excited to announce our 5K Charity Fun Run for NMDP (Nation Marrow Donor Program)-formerly Be The Match, sponsored by HOSA-Future Health Professionals.

We would LOVE ALL of you to participate! You don't have to "run" to fundraise and earn a shirt. It is a FUN run/walk! It is going to be a PARTY! Teachers will have their own division for prizes! Sign up by scanning the QR code.

ALL DONATIONS WILL BE MADE ONLINE AND GO DIRECTLY TO NMDP!

One of our own Corner Canyon students received a bone marrow transplant at the beginning of the year! Please help show your support by participating in some way!

A colorful poster for a 5K Fun Run. The top left features the text "5K FUN RUN" in large, bold letters. To the right is a logo consisting of four vertical bars of different colors (blue, green, yellow, red). Below the main title, it says "for charity". The date and time "Friday March 22 2 pm" are prominently displayed. The poster includes several sections of text: "You do NOT have to run to be eligible for prizes! All donations will be made ONLINE!", "What is NMDP? NMDP is a global nonprofit leader in cell therapy. NMDP creates essential connections between researchers, supporters, donors and patients to inspire action and accelerate innovation to find life-saving cures for blood cancers and diseases!", and "The first 75 people to raise $75 will get an NMDP t-shirt! WIN gift cards- SWIG, Costa Vida, etc... Prizes for top fundraisers, race winners and random drawings." There is a QR code and a small image of a t-shirt. At the bottom, it says "formerly BE THE MATCH" and "now nmdp FIND CURES. SAVE LIVES. HOSA Premier Service Project".
